MISSIONARY UPDATE: Dear Pastor Danny &

Liberty Wesleyan Church, Greetings from the Philippines. Last night, a typhoon ripped through the Philippines. The wind howled and rain fell; but this morning the calm returned, and the sky looks beautiful. I think this natural “poem” shows us the power and goodness of God.

Recently, I asked our students about what God is doing in their lives through their seminary education. A student from Myanmar said, “It’s really amazing for me . . . to focus on our studies.” Classes, assignments, chapel services, and fellowship groups provide structure for her life. Although she lives in a country riven by civil strife, her studies give discipline and purpose for each day. Another student said that her studies were “part of God’s calling for my life.” She felt called to full-time ministry in the Philippines, so she planned on getting her master’s degree from a secular school. When God closed those doors, she enrolled in Asia-Pacific Nazarene Theological Seminary. She confessed that “life has never been the same again because it changed my way of dealing with parents and families.” This student compared the seminary to a family. “Our professors. . .come alongside you, journey with you, and help with your concerns.”

Thanks for helping equip students like these for effective ministry. Thanks for coming alongside these wonderful students. You’re making a difference! Global Partners informed us of Liberty Wesleyan’s donation this month of $1,000. Thanks for your partnership with the Father for students in Asia and around the world. Sincerely, Phil and Becky Davis, Global Partners Missionaries, Asia-Pacific Nazarene Theological Seminary, Manila, the Philippines
